RESEARCH GRANTS

COVID Impact on Scholarly Productivity Faculty Grant
Provost's Office, Rutgers University – New Brunswick, Amount: $6,000
Active Period: 9/2021-1/2022
Role: Awardee
University and departmental funding to support a course release for the Fall 2021 semester. The purpose of the grant is to provide protected time to focus on research productivity impacted by the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

LGBTQ & Racial Justice Small Grants Program
Williams Institute, UCLA School of Law, Amount: $4,800
Healthcare Access for Black LBQ+ Women – Intersections of Structural Racism and Homophobia
Active Period: 5/2021-5/2022
Role: Co-Investigator
This research project examines the association between interpersonal and structural racial and sexual orientation discrimination simultaneously affect sexual and reproductive health care among Black lesbian, bisexual, queer, and other sexual minority (LBQ+) U.S. women using a cross-sectional national online survey.

NIH R25, NIMH/NIH (R25 MH080665), PI: Nabila El-Bassel
HIV Intervention Science Training Program
Active Period: 5/2020-8/2023
Role: Forward Fellow
The goal of this program is to increase the number of NIH funded new investigators from underrepresented groups by providing training, mentorship, and other research and professional development activities that will enable them to conduct implementation research with a special emphasis on solutions that rely or take advantage of health technology (e.g., gamification, wearable technology).

NIH R25, NIMH/NIH (R25 MH087217), PI: Trace Kershaw
Research Education Institute for Diverse Scholars, Amount: $20,000
Active Period: 6/2020-12/2023
Role: REIDS Scholar
The goal of this multidisciplinary program is to address the barriers to the advancement of underrepresented racial and ethnic minority early career researchers by providing training and mentorship on the conduct of community-based implementation science to reduce HIV inequities in communities.

NIH R01, NIMHD/NIH (R01MD013623), PIs: José Bauermeister & Kate Muessig
Increasing Engagement and Improving HIV Care Outcomes via Stigma Reduction in an Online Social Networking Intervention among Racially Diverse Young Men who have Sex with Men and Transgender Women, Amount: $715, 387
Active Period: 5/2020-9/2020
Role: Contractor
Multiple stigmas related to sexuality, race, and HIV infection negatively impact HIV testing, engagement in HIV care, and consistent viral suppression (VS) among young Black or Latino men who have sex with men and transgender women (YBLMT). This study tested whether an online intervention tailored for intersectional stigma amelioration can elicit online social support, promote intervention engagement, and mitigate the impact of multiple stigmas on HIV-related outcomes.

Dissertation Completion Fellowship
UNC Chapel Hill Graduate School, Amount: $18,000
Closing the Knowledge-Behavior Gap: the Impact of Sexual Health Information Behaviors and Technologies on the HIV Protective and Risk Reduction Behaviors of Young, Black Men who have Sex with Men
Active Period: 5/2019-5/2020
Role: Principal Investigator
This project used a mixed methods approach to examine the influence of information behaviors and technologies on the adoption of HIV protective and risk reduction behaviors among young, Black men who have sex with men living in the state of North Carolina.

Doctoral Research Fellowship
Clarivate Analytics/Medical Library Association, Amount: $2,000
Sexual Health Information Behaviors and the Adoption of HIV Risk Reduction Behaviors among Young Black Men who have Sex with Men
Active Period: 5/2018-6/2019
Role: Principal Investigator
The purpose of this project was to explore the sociotechnical information environments and sexual health information behaviors of young Black men who have sex with men in North Carolina, and evaluate their influence on the decision to adopt HIV protective and risk-reduction behaviors (e.g., HIV testing, pre-exposure prophylaxis uptake, anti-retroviral adherence, HIV status disclosure).

Carnegie Research Grant
UNC Chapel Hill School of Information and Library Science, Amount: $1,400
Use of Mobile Technologies to Access and Interact with HIV/AIDS Information among Black Men who have Sex with Men
Active Period: 1/2019-6/2019
Role: Principal Investigator
The goal of this study was to investigate how young, Black men who have sex with men use mobile and social computing technologies to access and interact with HIV/AIDS-related information.

NIH R21, NIMH/NIH (R21MH105292), PI: Kate Muessig & José Bauermeister
Addressing Stigma among Black MSM in a Mobile Phone and Internet HIV Intervention, Amount: $443,000
Active Period: 9/2015-7/2017
Role: Research Assistant
The object of this study was to analyze experiences of multiple stigmas as described and discussed by young, Black and Latino men who have sex with men and transgender women on an online intervention platform and to assess the pathways through which this mode of online social support could mitigate the impact of multiple stigmas on HIV-related outcomes.

NIH/NLM, AIDS Community Information Outreach Project Grant, PI: Juliet Fink
Patient. Click. Connect, Amount: $50,000
Active Period: 9/2013-9/2014
Role: Key Personnel
Awarded grant to provide training and support for clinicians and low-income individuals living with HIV to use an online patient portal for shared decision-making and use of National Library of Medicine information resources at a federally qualified health center in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

NIH/NLM, AIDS Community Information Outreach Project Grant, PI: Juliet Fink
Positive Youth Transitions: Link, Click and Connect, Amount: $50,000
Active Period: 9/2013-9/2014
Role: Key Personnel
Awarded grant aimed at retaining HIV-positive youth transitioning to adult care by providing skills-building for navigating the HIV care continuum using National Library of Medicine resources at a federally qualified health center in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.
